HAILE CLUB CONCERT. A Trie of Prominent Local Musicians

To Appear.

In making announcement of this coming musical event, the club management feels that it is particularly fortunate in being able to present a trio of local musicians of exceptional merit, of whom the city may justly be pround. Mr. Eldred is a well known violinist of pronounced ability. Mrs. Crowell possesses a carefully trained voice of singular sweetness, and Mrs. Shields is an accompanist of unusual merit. In their appearance a programme is assured that will appeal to lovers of the best in music and be deserving of their patronage. The tickets will be on sale as usual at George A. Davis & Co, and Cranston & Co, stores.

AUDITORIUM OFFERS NEW BILL TODAY.

The success of the Auditorium is due to the fact that you always get more than your money's worth, and more than that cannot be expected in any line of business. The show for the first three days of the week was positively one of the best ever seen in this city, and all those who missed it have come for discounting.

have cause for disappointment.

For today and the rest of the week, the headline act will be Wohlrab, white and Schears, who offer what in New York is termed a Rathskeller act. This act is comprised of singact. This act is comprised of singlag. Gancing and piano playing, all combined in the snappiest style imagimable. Kresko and Fox, the second act, who are nicknamed "Pattering Pals." present a singing and talking oddity that cannot help but please.
Philip Jean Bernard, the man in white, is also on today's bill and will amuse with his southern songs and stories in the original darkey dialect.

The pictures at this popular house are gaining friends every day, and for originality of theme and production are beyond comparison. Some are better than others, but all are good.
The photoplays today are The Way of

The spoons are soing fast at the mailness, and some ladies who have received one set have evinced a desire to obtain another. Any one may obtain one or more sets, all that is necessary is to have the required amount of coupons.

BREED THEATER

The and by its stirring breezy story, condsome scenery and especially fine acting, made a decided hit. A very clever story of a young and handsome miner in hard luck; tells of his holding up a young tourist and relieving aim of his wallet, a letter of introduction of his wallet, a to a wealthy rancher, and a photo on the rancher's pretty daughter. With these he proceeds to the ranch and presents himself as the tourist, being cordially received by the family, especially by the daughter. Later, the tourist whom he left in a cabin under the watchful care of an Indian, escapes, and is lost in the desert. In searching for him, he finds him dying of thirst, and the face of the girl that has wrought a wonderful change in the character of him, comes up, and all of his better nature is shown, for moreover it works. At last here is instant relief and a lasting permanent remedy for sore feet. No more tired feet. No more aching feet. No more swellen, bad smelling, aweaty feet. No more callouses, no matter what alls your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use TIZ.

At last here is instant relief and a lasting permanent remedy for sore feet. No more tired feet. No more abiling feet. No more swollen, bad smelling, awestly feet. No more corns. No more bunions. No more callouses, no matter what alls your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, last use $12.

TIZ is totally unlike anything else for the purpose you ever heard of. It's the sally foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleanses them out and keeps them clean. It works right off. You will feel better the very first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25 cents per box, or direct if you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co. Chicago, III.

This afternoon the Poll Players will give a matinee of "Wildfire" the breezy, delightfu gacing comedy in which they are appearing so successfully this week. It is full of laughable comedy and each of the members of the company appears in a character role entirely different from anything they have done before. For next week the big rural play, "Sky Farm," is being prepared for production and it promises to be one of the important things of the early season. The scenes are all striking and pretty and extra help has been required to get them on time. gave me some medicine and a saive. I used them for months but did not receive any results. In the meantime it broke out all over my back and chest. I then went to another doctor and he told me the same as my own doctor—that it was exzema. He also gave me medicine for eighteen months. All I could see was that he moved it from my face and body to my hands and feet, and although I did everything I could not heal my hands and feet. My hands would split open on the joints are would be so sore that I could not use them at times. Then I started to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment in July, 1893, and before 1894 I was fully cured. As soon as I began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment I found relief at once. "My sister, Miss Rebecca Jackson, had a breaking out on her face and hands the same as myself. She used Cuticura Soap and Ointment for seven or eight months, and was cured entirely." (Signed) Samuel F. Jackson, 1217 Pine St., Philadelphia, Pa., May 5, 1911.

A brilliant social event occurred Wed-cesday evening from half after six until ten o'clock, at the residence of colock, at the residence of c south Main street, when their eldest daughter, Mabel Adele, was united in marriage with Lloyd Greene Buckingsham. The rooms of the apartments which is to be the young couple's future home, were elaborately decorated by Geduldig of Norwich. In the purlor where the ceremony was performed there was an arch of pains smilax and Easter files, and about the room were urns of chrysan themums, dahlias and autumn leaves. The mantel was banked with roses and chrysanthemums. Festoons of graceful smilax were about the room. Palms were in the music room, and brides roses were upon the mantel and table. The hall was done in autumn houghs. The dining-from which the bridal-party were served, was decorated with brides roses and paims.

As the march from Lohengrin was played the groom-elect and his bestman the ushers, William A. Buckingham, of the groom, and champion H. Mathewson, P. H. POETRY.

UNTIL MORNING. Here let him rest; the day is done; The battle that he fought is won; The race is run.

The cool and calm of evening now Drive fever from his pulsing prow; Why weepest thou:

The twilight peace is over all: The thrushes in the woodland call; The shadows fall.

But when another sun shall rise, And all its dawning glory lies, Upon his eyes.

For him a fairer day will break. Which night shall never overtake; —John Clair Minot, in Youth's Com-

UNDERTONES. The dirge of the mighty ocean Swells with its ebb and flow.
The rock ribbed foot of the headland
Dashes the breakers to snow.
Thro trees, the wide winds are whis-

Thro' trees, the wide winds ar p'ring
Down to the flow'ring sod,
Some call it the lure of sirens,
And others, the voice of God.

What warms the wild rose to flaming, And kisses the snowdrops white? Who bid the stars watch our dreaming. And pale in the morning light? Why has the heart restless yearnings For heights and steeps untrod? Some call it the voice of Longing. And others, the voice of God. —Hey C. Spencer, in Hampton-Columbian Magazine. Black Org, Senior—Ah, my boy, there is nothing stronger than a mother's love. Young Black Orp—Isn't there, by Jove, Have you ever had a peck at one of these onions?—Tatler. "I don't see any sense in referring to the wisdom of Solomon," said the man, smartly, "He had a thousand wives," "Yes," answered the woman, tartly, "he learned his wisdom from them."—Brooklyn Life, Wife—Why did you refuse to give that man the rooms? Husband—He looked so ill tempered I was afraid I should never summon up courage to raise his rent later on,—Fliegence Blatter.

"Was your love affair romantie?"

"Oh, very! I met Reginald at the sea-shore. We both pretended to be very rich." "Yes, yes!" "And now it turns out that he collects the payments on our plane."—Louisville Courier Journal.

"You may break, you may shatter, the vase, if you will—" He paused and bent a severe look upon his young wife. "But it is customary in our station of life," he said, "to leave that sort of thing to servants!" The woman, on her part, bit her lip chagginedly, but she spake never a word.— Puck.

The prodigal son had returned. The fatted calf graced the festal board. "No, thank you," he said, 'when pressed to accept a second platterful. "When I went away I was 50 pourfus overweight, and now that I have succeeded in wasting my substance on riotous living I'm not going to take any chances on getting fat again."—Chicago Post.

"Aha!" exclaimed Hurlock Shelmer.

"Mal!" exclaimed Hurlock Sholmes, as he entered the apartment. "There was a mouse in the room!" "Tour power of scent, Hurlock," commented Woctor Dotson, "is simply marvelous!" "Scent nothing," said the great detective. "See the heel marks of a woman's shoe on this chair!"—Browning's Magazine.

"Wouldn't Pip Ver Winkle be seen "Wouldn't Rip Van Winkle be aston-"Wouldn't Rip Van Winkle be aston-ished if he could awake now?" I should say so. Just think of it. He never saw a steamship or a railroal train, to say nothing of automobiles and aeroplanes. "I know but what would surprise him most would be the way women are able to dress without causing riots or even starting scan-dals."—Chicago Record-Herald. Miss Fullosoul (of a poetical turn)— Which are you of opinion one should say, professor, "Summer files" of "Summer flees?" Absent minded professor (great on entomology)—The two species, my dear young lady, are entirely distinct. Now, the common house fly—. Then he wondered why she suddenly opened a conversation with the young man on her right.—London Subere

MUCH IN LITTLE Two million dollars' worth of sugar is made into sweets every week in England.

A new alarm indicator for firemen switches on an incandescent light at a point on a map corresponding with the place from which the alarm is set. The manufacture of cottonseed products, on a commercial scale, had its beginning in England, and as late as 1870 that country, with an annual crush of 200,000 tons, was the leading

The green leaf of the betel pepper, smeared with red lime, together with tobacco, catechu, and the areca nut make up the material used in betel chewing. This habit is quite universal among the Siamese, especially among the women. Land in Japan can be owned outright only by Japanese subjects, the entire empire being nominally the property of the emperor. However, if foreigners in Japan form a company wholly under Japanese laws, that company may hold land in the company's right. Emigrants leaving Germany for other parts of the world are fewer in numbers than formerly. In 1882 their number was above 200,000, while that of last year was but 25,000 in round numbers. Of this 25,000 the emi-grants coming to the United States were 23,000.

Bermuda will soon have a salt water fishing preserve covering an area of about five square miles. It will be made by constructing a sill of concrete across the single narrow opening which unites Harrington Sound with the ocean, and fixing a screen to prevent the exit of fish. Official statistics with regard to the crosstic consumption in Canada for 1910 show that there were 9,213,962 crosstics purchased in that year by the steam and electric roads of the Dominion at a cost of $3,535,228. This is a decrease of 35 per cent. from the number purchased in 1909. Canada bought from and steel manufactures from the United States during April to the value of $2,040,037 durieble and $593,573 from goods, being increases of $788,932 and $2,945, respectfully, over April, 1910. From all other ununtries, Canada's purchases of these goods were only $583,775 duriable and $232,346 free goods in April 1911.

The Jordan Valley is a long plain extending along both banks of the river and bounded on either side by the mountains, first of Samaria, then of Judeau, and then of Moab. In its upper reaches the mountains come close to the banks while lower down near Jericho and the Dead Sea, the plain is quite extensive, reaching a width of about 15 miles on both sides. In this region the water of the river might be turned to advantage
